Factional Fights and Civil Service.

Republican Federal office holders in Kansas, Iowa and other insurgent states have been notified by President Taft, it is reported that they must refrain from participation in the factional disturbances in those states. Those officials evidently believed that they were expected to uphold the regular or Administration faction of the party. This has led to much bitterness and too many complaints to the President especially from Kansas. As the Administration hopes to propitiate the Insurgents so that they will vote for such standpat candidates for Congress as have been nominated it was imperative that the Federal officers should appear to be neutral. Still, only a week or two ago there was a Republican convention in Alabama and it was claimed that over one half of the delegates were postmasters or other government office-holders and their relatives and friends. Postmaster-General Hitchcock instead of objecting to such partisan activity on the part of his subordinates seem to have approved it. He is now on a tour through the South and West including Arizona and New Mexico and one does not require to be told what his purpose is. The latter action of the postmasters and others at caucuses and conventions will tell the partisan tale and there will be no tickling by the Insurgents.

What the Republicans need is harmony, and they can't get it. What the Democrats need is cash, and they can't get enough to pay office expenses while the Republicans have trust-money to burn.

With the Colonel giving out his "keynote" on the 23rd inst., and the president sounding his slogan on September 30th the air will be charged with politics; and just fancy what the divided Republicans will do if the double keynotes should be out of tune.

Senator Crane, on whom President Taft now seems to lean, voted with Senator Aldrich with a constancy that proves that he belongs to the old reactionary gang. The insurgents would give greater heed to one that is less of a standpatter.

Mrs. Harrison on New York Society.

"My earliest impressions of the city of my adoption, New York, when I came there as a young bride some years after the war," says Mrs. Burton Harrison in the Woman's Home Companion for September, "was that in many respects it possessed attractions likely to be lost in the rush of improvements which were to make of the present great metropolis. This has proved to be so, and I make haste to add that I am far from including certain physical aspects of the town, the paving of its streets, the long rows of dreary brownstone houses the telegraph poles, omnibuses and horse-cars now happily swept away.

"My point of view was chiefly focussed upon the social relation of the people among whom I had come to make my new home, away from the warm and cordial Southern country where everybody knew everybody and there was no heart-burning about 'sets' since we recognize but one. As a matter of fact, I found pretty much the same condition of things existent in New York of the seven tides. The leaders of the society, Mrs. Belmont, Mrs. Hamilton Fish, the two Mrs. Astors, Mrs. Lewis M. Rutherford and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt (mother of the future President) were all 'highborn hosts,' about whom there could be no contest, no dispute.

"Mrs. Belmont and Mrs. John Jacob Astor were spoken of as entertaining most often, and with more of foreign elegance than any others, because their large means, handsome establishments and love of hospitality carried their parties into more conspicuous places before the public eye. But it was certainly not the custom, as it is now, to strain for invitations to the house of wealthier hostesses and to consider the less lavish entertainers in the second rank.

"All the ladies I have named some more less had the habit of cordiality in receiving. Their 'at homes' were consequently cheerful gatherings where people like to come and to linger. As I remember it society was equally pleased to be bidden to one of the broad old-fashioned dignified homes of the dwellers on Second avenue who made no attempt to vie with the few exceedingly rich in the newer quarters of the town.

Experience Needed.

A colored brother of New York evidently a Republican orator of discrimination, said, that at a time when the Republican party was advocating "mastodon schemes of mammoth legislation" it was fitting that men of experience should be returned to Congress. By the investigations now in progress it would seem that Republicans of experience have already been at work at their "mastodon schemes" and that in part, at least the "mammoth legislation" had already received their careful consideration. "Turn the rascals out."

President Taft cannot say that he was not warned of what would happen if he accepted the council of those reactionary and standpat statesmen Cannon and Aldrich.

The new tariff has evidently had a bad effect on the cotton and woolen mills and yet they are protected up to the highest notch. High prices and poor business generally follow each other.

It is now discovered that a large batch of Rubber Trust stock is in the name of a clerk of John D. Rockefeller. As Senator Aldrich is father-in-law of young Rockefeller this keeps the control of the Trust in the family, and explains why the increase in the tariff on rubber goods was so easily secured from the Trust-ridden Republican majority in Congress.

The "complimentary business" of giving franks and half-rate certificates by the Postal and Western Union Telegraph Companies has been discontinued since such corporations have been made common carriers under the new railroad law. It is about time that Express Companies to similar steps and the Interstate Commerce Commission should stir them to action and reduce the rates of all these corporations as excessive especially the Express Companies.

Won't Need a Crutch.

When editor J. P. Sossman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica salve healed it thoroughly. What is a Neighbor?

A neighbor is one who will lend you anything you call on him for if he doesn't need it. He will also return what he borrowed just as he borrowed it. When the doctor's horse and buggy are hitched at your gate he will come to see what is the matter before you have to send after him to close the eyes of the dead. When he has a surplus of apples and can't sell them, he will not let them rot on the ground before giving them to you when the little children's mouths are watering for them. He will not give milk to the hogs and let you make bread with baking powders which causes stomach trouble. If your horse, cow or hog escapes the pasture he will come and tell you before he shoots it or tears it all to pieces. He is willing and ready to help raise a barn or help do anything a person can't do himself. He will give you a day's work when you are sick and in the winter time he doesn't mind getting wood for your fire.

Great Sport.

Lovers of good sport are having plenty of fun these days shooting doves. Practically all the hemp in the county has been cut and in almost every field a score of busy hunters may be seen eagerly awaiting the arrival of the birds. There is a great many more doves this season than last, which was an exceptionally bad year.

BASE BALL.

TUESDAY.

With Winchell on the mound dispensing an assortment of benders that completely mystified his opponents, the Bourbonites took the third game of the series from Frankfort in the latter city Tuesday afternoon, winning by a score of 5 to 1.

The Senators tried out Pitcher Schaffer, recently acquired from Reading, Pa. Schaffer's delivery was no puzzle at any stage of the for innings he pitched, as the Bourbonites made seven hits and five scores in the four innings, a number of the hits being for extra bases. McElvaine was substituted for Schaffer at the beginning of the fifth inning and he permitted no more run making.

Several times during the game the Senators had a chance to score and once to win with a hit. Winchell, however, was invincible when men were on bases. Score:

Paris.....11210000-5
Frankfort.....00010000-1
Batteries—Paris, Winchell and Thau; Frankfort, Schaffer, McElvaine and Angemeier. Errors—Paris 3; Frankfort 1. Hits—Paris 12; Frankfort 6. Earned runs—Paris 5; Frankfort 1. Double plays—Hoch, Angemeier, Hoch. Wild pitch—Winchell. Stolen bases—Chapman. Sacrifice hits—Chapman, Schmidt. Hits off Schaffer 7; off McElvaine 5. Time—1:50. Umpire—Hanley.

WEDNESDAY.

Taking the lead in the opening session only to fall before the steady advance of the Bourbonites the Pioneers were defeated Wednesday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. Smarting under the sting of several straight defeats the Pioneers started out in a whirl and the chances for the Bourbonites to carry away the day looked anything but favorable.

For three innings Allison kept the Bourbonites guessing but when the fourth rolled around matters suddenly changed and when the third Bourbonite had been retired the locals had counted four times. Williams showed poor form in the three sessions allowing four hits and hit one man, walked another and allowed Baird to score from third on a wild pitch. After the third he showed a wonderful improvement and in the six sessions that followed only one man was able to connect with him safely and that came in the last inning after two men were down.

The visitors stated well in the first when Baird the first up, led off with a singing drive over the third sack and advanced on Maloney's sacrifice. Olson followed with a single to right and Baird took third, scoring on a wild pitch. Olson scored from third on Whittaker's grounder to McKernan and Woodruff fled to Schmidt for the third out. After two were out in the first, McKernan smashed the sphere for two bases and took third on a pass ball. Goodman was given a pass and Scott grounded to Huhn.

The visitors looked dangerous in the second when assisted by three battery errors the bases were filled. Bramblage fanned for the first out and Huhn swung at three but Thau dropped the third strike which gave the runner life. He was forced at second on Thos's grounder to Kuhlman. Allison was thumped in the side and Baird was given a free ride, filling the bases. Maloney grounded to Williams for the third out.

Eight of the Bourbonites faced Allison in the fourth and five hits which counted for four runs was the result. Goodman opened the bombardment with a stinging drive to left and Scott beat out a slow one down the first base line. Barnett bunted along the third base line and filled the bases. Chapman followed with a two bager to left that sent Goodman and Scott over the rubber. Thau was called out on strikes and Williams sent one through second base that counted both Barnett and Chapman. Williams was forced at second on Kuhlman's grounder to Olson and Schmidt died to Maloney for the third out. Score:

Batteries—Paris, Williams and Thau; Richmond, Allison and Thos. Errors—Paris 5. Hits—Paris 10; Richmond 5. Earned runs—Richmond 1; Paris 4. Two base hits—McKernan 2, Chapman, Sacrifice hits—Kuhlman, Maloney, Schmidt. Bases on balls—off Allison 1; off Williams 2. Hit by pitcher—Allison. Wild pitch—Williams. Stolen bases—Baird, Kuhlman, Goodman. Passed ball—Thos. Left on bases—Paris 6; Richmond 9. First base on errors—Richmond 4. Time—1:55. Umpire—Bohannon.

THURSDAY.

Harrell, the latest acquisition to the pitching staff of the Bourbonites, made his debut as a member of the local aggregation at White Park yesterday afternoon, and celebrated the occasion by defeating the Pioneers by a score of 5 to 3.

Erratic playing in the fourth inning gave the visitors three tallies that should not have been counted had the locals fielded perfectly. Three errors and two hits, only one of which went clean counted three runs. Wills proved an easy thing and the locals found no trouble in hitting.

In the first three sessions only one of the Pioneers had been able to get a base and that as the result of a free pass. In the fourth Maloney batted over Harrell's head which McKernan threw wild to first. Olson followed with a sacrifice. Whittaker grounded to Scott who threw wild to third and both runners were safe. Maloney scored when Whittaker made an attempt to steal and when McKernan threw wild to the plate. Woodruff hit to left, Whittaker scoring. Woodruff drove a hot one to Barnett, which he handled cleanly but no one covered the sack. Woodruff was caught at the plate and Huhn perished Kuhlman to Barnett.

Paris counted a couple in the same inning after two were down. Barnett was thumped in the ribs and took first. Chapman for the second time drove the ball into safe territory for two bases, scoring Barnett, and stealing third for the second time came home on Harrell's hit to center.

The visitors counted again in the sixth on one hit, and a sacrifice. Paris clinched the game in their half on error followed by consecutive singles by Chapman, Thau and Harrell, netting three runs. The features of the game was the batting Chapman, Thau and Harrell, the base running of Chapman and the fielding of Goodman, Schmidt and Bramblage. Score:

Paris.....00020300-5
Richmond.....00020100-3

Thursday—Big Day.

The third day of the Bourbon Fair will be one of the biggest of the week. Thursday there will be many premiums offered, among which will be the Directors' Premium of $200 for the best saddle mare or gelding. This offer never fails to bring out the finest specimens of horse flesh and promises to be the greatest ring of show horses ever exhibited at a fair in Kentucky. The Bourbon Fair begins Tuesday, September 6 and will continue the remainder of the week.

Hotel Threatened With Destruction.

Fire which broke out yesterday afternoon at 1:25 o'clock almost destroyed the South wing of the Windsor Hotel and for a time the entire building was threatened by the flames. The fire originated from a defective flue in the kitchen of the South wing and when discovered the roof of the wing was a mass of flames. The fire department responded to the call and lines were laid in the rear of the building. A brisk wind was blowing toward the East which worked for a time to the advantage of the firemen and volunteers, but suddenly shifting the flames began to consume the wing rapidly and were rapidly eating their way toward the main building.

A line of hose was laid from the front of the building to the second story which aided much in checking the progress of the conflagration and after an hour of hard fighting the fire was confined to that portion of the building where it originated.

In the past few years this building has suffered to no small extent as the result of fire and only recently the same portion of the building which was burned yesterday afternoon, was damaged to a great extent. The hotel is owned by Lexington parties principally, among them Geo. C. Webb and Judge Watts Parker. A portion of the stock in the company is owned by Paris people.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McLeer, who have been conducting the hotel several years will lose much as only a portion of their property was covered by insurance. The total loss on the building and furniture from the effects of fire and water it is estimated will, in the aggregate, in the neighborhood of $8,000.

Fire, wind and lightning insurance. Thomas &amp; Woodford Held to Grand Jury.

Upon a charge of maintaining a common nuisance S. M. Turpin was arrested and arraigned in Judge Denis Dundon's court yesterday and held to await the action of the November Grand Jury. Turpin conducts a lunch stand at the corner of Eighth and Main streets and those who reside in the neighborhood registered objections against Turpin. The principal complainants were the occupants of the flats in the Robnel Building. A number of witnesses were introduced by both sides in the case. Turpin was represented by Attorney C. Arnsparger and C. M. Thomas, while County Attorney Geo. Batterton conducted the prosecution.

Lindsay Quits the Job.

Umpire Lindsay, after stopping in the Blue Grass for a week and umpiring for the same length of time, departed Tuesday for Cincinnati on his way home. According to Lindsay, things are a little bit too hot for "umps" in the Blue Grass.

"The salary is small, and it is my observation," said Lindsay before his departure, "that the man handling the indicator hasn't a fair chance in these parts. I don't know what sin I ever committed that caused me to be sentenced, but 'never again' for me."

September 6-10.

Much progress has been made in the arrangements leading to the holding of the Old Bourbon Fair in this city, the sixty-fourth annual exhibition which takes place September 6-10, inclusive.

Frankfort Game Under Protest.

President Ussery was notified Monday night that the last game of the double header played at Frankfort Monday, between Paris and Frankfort had been protested by Manager McKernan, and President Bacon of the Paris club want to Frankfort Tuesday morning to investigate the situation.

It is claimed by the Bourbonite manager that when Paris went to bat in the first half of the seventh inning the game stood 3 to 2 in favor of the Senators. He asserts that after Paris had scored two runs in the seventh, had two men on bases and two men out, the players of the Frankfort team began throwing the ball all over the diamond in an effort to delay the game to such a point that darkness might bring an end to hostilities.

Manager McKernan protested vigorously insisted that Umpire Harrell make the Frankfort team play ball and that the latter ignoring his demands took his seat on the bench without making a decision that would expediate the game.

SIMON'S DEPARTMENT STORE.

Will Surpass Former Exhibits.

The premium list is a liberal one and the arena being unsurpassed for an exhibit of the stock especially the speed rings for harness and saddle horses, the attendance this year is likely to surpass that of any former exhibition.

Durocs Sold.

Messrs. A. P. Adair & Son, of near Paris sold recently to Mr. J. L. Broff, of Helena, Mason county, one brood and one gilt of the Duroc breed for $50. They also sold to a Mr. Sallee, of Danville, one gilt for $30.

Weber's Band.

One of the most pleasing features of the Bourbon Fair which is to be held in this city September 6-10 inclusive, will be the music which is to be furnished by Weber's Military Band of Cincinnati. Last year the musical program greatly pleased the patrons of the fair and the officers of the society this year secured the services of Weber and his celebrated band to furnish the music.

Maysville Gets the Shelbyville Franchise.

Following the hitch in the arrangements between Owner Anton M. Kuhn of the Shelbyville base ball team and the franchise, and the prospective Shelbyville buyers, some prominent Maysville gentlemen have ended all the speculation and suspense by buying both team and franchise and paying the assessment for August 15, the whole of which amounts to $800.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, a Mr. Wells and other well known business men of Maysville are the new owners of the club. They have not yet announced who will manage the team or what arrangement are being made to secure players but they will get to work at once to build up a team that will creditably represent Maysville.

The Maysville team will today open the season with Paris. According to the contract entered into, the new town will get one Sunday game this year, playing Frankfort at Maysville on September 18.

Both Mt. Sterling and Maysville wanted the Shelbyville franchise and the fact that Maysville is located at a much greater distance from the playing center than Mt. Sterling, secured the team shows how much effort was made in that town. The Maysville owners are determined to place a good team in that city and are out for a 1911 pennant.

A dispatch from Maysville says: "The men here who have been in communication with the owners of the Shelbyville base ball team franchise, the Blue Grass League this afternoon received word that their terms had been accepted, and that the owners were ready to close the deal."

"While the terms are not given out yet, it is understood that Maysville is to have one Sunday game this season and an equal division of Sunday games next season. A representative of the local syndicate will leave here Wednesday morning to meet the present owners and take over the team."

Sweepstakes For Saddlers.

Friday, the fourth day of the Bourbon Fair, a sweepstakes for saddle horses carrying with it premiums to the amount of $200 for horses of this class, will be a feature. Many other handsome premiums are offered among them being the $20 premium for the fancy turnout.

Fined for Selling Liquor.

As a result of an affidavit by his attorney, P. A. Thompson, in the trial of the Commonwealth vs. Bud Macom, a resident of the negro suburb of Clayville, Justice L. J. Pretwell retired from the bench, and the trial proceeded before Judge Denis Dundon, a jury being impaneled to hear the evidence. Macom was charged with selling liquor on Sunday and with selling liquor in local option territory. The jury gave the defendant a fine of $50 on the former charge and by agreement a fine of $35 was taxed in the latter case.

Donations for the Fair Dinners.

The ladies of the Methodist church have secured the concession to serve meals at the fair grounds during the fair and donations are being solicited. The Methodist congregation recently suffered the loss of its church by fire and the ladies will serve meals on the fair grounds with a view of raising funds with which to assist in replacing the building. Town and country people should contribute liberally to this worthy cause and donations should come in plenty. Those who attended the fair last year and visited the dining room are acquainted with the sumptuousness of the meals served by the Methodist ladies and this year they will no doubt eclipse all their previous efforts.

Like Old Rip Van Winkle.

Alfred Booth Sands is a veritable Rip Van Winkle, except that he did not sleep, says a dispatch from Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Given up for dead years ago, he has returned at the age of seventy-nine, and after an absence of 51 years to the village of Milton, where he was born, to find that nearly all his relatives and friends, including the sweetheart of his young manhood, are dead, and that few remain who remember him. He is now renewing associations which he abruptly severed more than half a century ago, to seek his fortune in California.

For eighteen years Sands has been in the Soldiers' Home in California. While sick last spring, a friend on an adjoining bed saluted him as "Rip Van Winkle." Instantly the familiar story ran through his mind and he came East under that name to re-enact that story. Only the old stage driver remained who when he arrived at Milton. His mother lived for twenty years after he went away, and for nearly all that time confident of his return, she kept a lamp burning at night in the window of her home. After her death the courts declared Sands legally dead.

IN NEW YORK

Jack—People used to live in caves. Jim—Well, with the subway it's easy to get back to the simple life.

All Around Town.

A former Paris boy, now a resident of New York (pronounced New Yawk) who recently spent some time here after an absence of several years, wrote to a chum a few days after his return to the "big town", and added, as a postscript this:

"Have they laid another brick on the Paris government building since I left? You know they made wonderful progress during my twelve days' stay in Paris having laid two bricks, which was said then to have beaten all previous records."

The general public can investigate for itself, but the answer to the Parisian-New Yorker left no room for doubt as to what was going on.

A night or so ago a tall, divinely beautiful damsel with a masculine attachment at her side, was coming from the Grand Opera House in adoration of the crowd that fills the streets after the conclusion of the first performance. They sauntered along leisurely, discussing the Paris ball club's slump, the tobacco situation, the tariff, etc., all oblivious, all unseeing, all unhearing to anything but their own selves. Suddenly the fair damsel came to a stop in front of the big telephone pole in front of the Bourbon Bank. "What's the matter?" queried her companion. "Are you superstitious?" replied the fair one. "I shall we go on separate sides of the pole or shall we go on one side?" While they stood there debating the subject a Polish-Jew merchant, with all sails spread to catch a catspaw of wind, and bumping into them, passed between them on his way to the postoffice sans look, sans apology, sans anything.

"Let's be on our way," spoke up the masculine attachment with the young lady. "It's all settled now. The Pole has passed between us."

Everything Good.

A few nights ago Ed Brannon, the genial one, was sitting in the shade of the electric lights near his cafe, when along came a tall, elongated specimen of the "loaded-to-the-guns" individual. The inebriated one inquired of Edward, in a thick voice, the way to Millersburg. Pointing to the excavation being made for the new building of Mitchell & Blakemore, Ed said: "That's the quickest way down." Thinking it was a street the fellow plunged wearily down the decline and in a few moments had reached a place impeding further progress. Pretty soon Ed heard a voice calling: "Say, Mister, how'd ye git across this ford?" And then he bravely went to the rescue and set the intoxicated one on the right road.

Band Concert.

The Paris Military Band will give the last of its series of concerts tonight at 7:30 o'clock in front of the court house. The amount of money that was given by the business men of the city to defray the expenses of lighting and employing a few professional musicians, will be exhausted by tonight's concert. The members of the band all donated their services and did not receive a single cent of money for their work, but gave their time and work freely to help live up the city these summer evenings. A great number of people have asked them to give one more concert before the opening of the Bourbon County Fair and the band will gladly do so provided the amount of money can be raised to employ three professional musicians, (they do not come from Lexington) which amounts to $15.00.

The following numbers are on the program for this evening:
March—"Columbian."
Overture—"Olympia."
Waltz—"Queen of the Isle."
March—"National Emblem."
Selection—"Broen Idol."
Waltz—"Meet me Tonight in Dream-land."
Rag—"Cubanola Glide."
Overture—"Past and Present."
March—"Hercules."
Serenade—"Serenata Mexicana."
Lullaby—"Crescent."
March—"Fraternity."

Pony Day.

The first day of the Bourbon County Fair will be pony day. A number of attractive rings and premiums will be the offering. Aside from this there will be other rings. The first day, too, is designated as children's day which in addition to the pony display will make it enjoyable. The Bourbon Fair begins September 6 and continues for five days.

Lawyers' Night at the Grand.

On next Tuesday night Manager Porter of the Paris Grand will extend an invitation to the members of the Paris bar to be his guests at the first performance on that evening. This is preparatory to giving a prize to the handsomest lawyer in Paris, to be decided by a popular vote in the near future. The attorneys will occupy the four lower boxes, and everybody will have a good chance to pick out their favorite and be prepared to vote for him.

By special request Mr. Porter will put on at tonight's performance his three-round boxing contest between "Red Leary" and "Spike Hennessey." The boys have been practicing diligently for the past week, and three lively rounds may be expected.

On Saturday Mr. Porter will give away a chest of silver, valued at $20, which is on exhibition in Winters' window. Also a lawn swing will be given away in the gallery.

The Oldest Fair.

The Bourbon Fair is the oldest fair in the State. The sixty-fourth annual exhibition will be given on September 6-10, inclusive. It was better last year than ever and promises to excel in every respect this year. Exhibitors should write the Secretary at once for entry blanks.

Must Pay Up.

Newspapers over the entire country have been given to understand that Uncle Sam's post office department meant business about two years ago when it said that all subscriptions in the future must not be allowed to be in arrears over one year. The postal officials are calling on the newspapers throughout the country to send them a sworn list of their subscribers, indicating how many mail subscribers are in arrears over twelve months.

Not only have some received one notice, but a succession of them, followed up to insure the list being put in good shape, and for the first time newspaper publishers are made to realize that these rulings apply to them, as well as cheaper mail order journals the movement was first started against. This ruling means that a publisher is no longer able to give unlimited credit to his subscribers and that he must have a paid up list or he will be cited to appear at Washington to show cause why his second class postage rate should not be withdrawn, as has been done in several cases over the country.

We trust our subscribers will appreciate the position in which we are placed by this ruling and call at this office or send check for amount of subscription due.

A Merger.

Regular Customer—"There used to be two or three little bald spots on the crown of my head, away back. Are they there yet?" Barber—"No, sir; it ain't so bad as all that. Where those spots used to be, sir, there's only one now."

Many Attractive Features.

The sixty-fourth annual fair under the auspices of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society, will be held at the grounds of the Society in Paris five days commencing September 6. Big premium list and many other attractive features.

Steer Jumps from Bridge.

The spectacle of a big steer jumping from the center span of the L. & N. railroad bridge to the ground below, a distance of sixty feet, was witnessed by many people on North Main street Wednesday. Bramblett & Tarr, grocers and butchers, doing business in the Elks' Building corner of Main street and Bank Row, had purchased the steer from a farmer and were driving the animal through town. The steer took fright and dashed out Second street to the railroad and thence north to the bridge and after running along the ties for a distance of seventy-five feet took its leap to death.

Mr. Funk will have charge of the laundry here, Mr. Davis being engaged in another laundry at Paris, in partnership with Mr. Funk's brother. The name of the new laundry will probably be changed from the 'Wright' to the 'Right' laundry. New machinery and various other changes are being made in the laundry by the management now."

Free Sample Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the basic trouble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.

This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like Mr. O. F. Wisher's of Sycamore, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Culler's of 325 N. Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its grand value to every member of the family.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a post card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Ghosts Around

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Old Peter Baines had lived alone on the outskirts of Taylorsville for a dozen years, attracting no attention. Then some villager saw a ghost. Peter asked the full particulars and was thenceforth considered a believer in ghosts.

Next he inherited $15,000; then his neighbors began to pay him marked attention.

Miss Nancy Beebe, an old maid of nearly forty, had never married because she was homely and had no money. Miss Prudence Higgins was in the same fix. The widow Henderson could marry again if she had a couple of thousand; so could the widow Drew. Mrs. John White was a married woman, but while her husband was a carpenter she had aristocratic tastes and couldn't carry them out for the want of money.

These five women not only heard that old Peter believed in ghosts, but each one arranged her program to have a ghost pay him a midnight visit. He hadn't got his money yet when one night at the most solemn hour and while he was sleeping with his window open a scratching on the casing awoke him to ask what was wanted. It was the first night he had ever been disturbed.

"Peter," said a hollow voice that started the sweat on him, "Nancy Beebe is very unhappy."

"Is that so?" he replied.

"Yes, and it rests with you to make her happy. I am the ghost of her dead mother. I charge you to give her the sum of $2,000 as soon as you get your money. She will marry, and she will bless you. Fail not, Peter—fall not—lest the smallpox comes to you!"

"She shall have it," replied Peter as he looked out of the window and saw an object in white gliding away. On the next night he was wide awake, but lying on his bed, when a second ghost paid him a visit. He had figured that there was more than one ghost in the world and that there might be another caller. He heard a soft rustling, a cold breeze blew in at the window, and a scary voice announced:

"Peter Baines, do good with your money or you will be found dead. Prudence Higgins is a sad, sad girl. She may commit suicide. If she does you will be to blame for it. You can save her life and make her happy by giving her $2,000. Do it, Peter, and live to be a hundred years old."

"Yes, I'll do it. I want to live to be a hundred. What ghost are you?"

"Her grandmother's."

And another white object floated over the grass and through a gap in the fence and was swallowed up in the gloom of night. Some men would have gone around telling what they had seen, but old Peter kept a still tongue and prepared himself for other visits from other ghosts. Where there were two there must be three, the same as crows. He reasoned correctly. On the third night a third ghost appeared. She was being waited for, and old Peter was not so badly scared when a voice reached his ear, saying: "Peter, grim death is all around you! It flies on wings and stalks on legs. It looks for a victim. It stands at your gate and stares at your house."

"But tell it to pass on," replied Peter. "I want to live to be a hundred years old."

"Then do as I tell you. You know the widow Drew. Make her happy. Give her a chance. When you get your money give her $1,000. It is little to you, but much to her."

"Wouldn't a hundred do?" asked old Peter as he began to feel stingy.

"Shall I beckon to death to come and enter this window?" menaced the ghost.

"No, no, no! The widdler shall have her thousand. I didn't know but a hundred would do, but I see it won't. Whose ghost are you?"

"That of a gypsy woman who was murdered. Beware of my anger. Do not play me false. I go—I go—I go!"

And she "goed." She seemed to get going for a moment in the gap, and the old man thought he heard the ripping of cloth, but she got clear and disappeared before he was sure. He didn't want any more ghosts in his life. He had seen three and promised $5,000 out of his legacy. The pace was too hot. Next night he shut and nailed down the window, but it was in vain. The fourth ghost came and announced that he must provide for the widow Henderson or prepare to be haunted all the rest of his life by evil spirits. He hung off for a few minutes, but the sighs and groans and scratchings on the glass were too much for him. The widow Henderson was to receive $1,500 in cash.

On the next night old Peter took some bedding and lay down under the current bushes, where no fifth ghost could find him. He kept wide awake and alert. At midnight he saw ghost No. 5 appear. She glided for his bedroom window. She was just about to appeal to him when four other ghosts showed up. The five stood and looked at each other for a moment. Then human voices were heard calling names. Then human hands and feet moved, and the five ghosts were clanking and scratching and mixing things up, and when the scrap was over old Peter turned out of his nest and found five badly torn and matted bed sheets lying on the grass, along with combs, hairpins and other things. None ever came back, and he saved his cash.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower in 1882 it was upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. It is the "floating frame" described so fully in our catalog. All manufacturers of mowers admit that the "direct under-draft" principle is the correct one—but they can't use it because genuine under-draft is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is exclusive to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running; lightest draft; handiest to operate; least expensive to keep in repair and longest lived. The mower that leads on these points is the mower it will pay the farmer to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

Gentle Mule Lands Owner in Hospital.

In attempting to disprove the reports that his mule was most vicious animal in the neighborhood, Daniel Friedman, of Maspeth, was kicked and trampled on by the animal and is today in the German Hospital, suffering from probably fatal injuries, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. Miss Rebecca Levinson, while visiting the Friedman home last night, told Friedman of the rumors
she had heard concerning the mule.
Friedman asked her and two other friends to accompany him to the stable where he had the animal, and he would show them the mule was as "gentle as a lamb." They consented to go with him.

At the stable, while his friends stood at the door, Friedman started to pat the mule on the back and head.
The animal showed no resentment to this, and then the owner decided to go to extremes and twist the mule's tail.
The mule let fly his heels and they struck Friedman in the chest, sending him to the floor. The animal then broke his halter and proceeded to trample upon his master. The screams of the women attracted a policeman, who succeeded in subduing the animal.
Friedman was carried from the barn unconscious.

A physician from the hospital stated the man's injuries consisted of four fractured ribs, fracture of right shoulder and internal injuries from which he may die.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—W. H. Givens and Harry Coins, of Louisville, bought two car loads of horses and mules in Scott county last week at prices ranging from $110 to $200. Andy Graves, of Georgetown assisted them in the purchase of the animals.

Pathetic.

"Tis the irony of fate," sighed the county fair aeronaut. "When a boy I wore patches on my trousers and now that I'm a man I sail the skies in a patched balloon."

Kentucky Troops Get Large Amounts.

Kentucky gets nearly $80,000 this year for the benefit of her militia.
The money comes in allotments from $4,000,000 appropriated by Congress for militia purposes, which is based in part upon Congressional representation and in part upon the enlisted militia strength of the States. Kentucky's allotment is divided as follows:
In the basis of a representation of thirteen in Congress, the State gets $38,144.31 for arms, equipments and camp purposes, and $12,714.77 for the promotion of rifle practice a total of $50,859.08.

In the basis of an enlisted militia strength of 1,986, the State gets $11-163.36 for ammunition, an allowance equal to 50 per cent of the regular army allowance to soldiers for his purpose, and $17,159.52 for military supplies, which includes an allowance of $5.33 per man for clothing. The total under the second appropriation is $28,322.88.

The grand total of allotments for the Blue Grass State is $79,181.96 and more may be coming to Kentucky out of a reserve fund of $40,000 for emergencies. The balance of which will be distributed at the close of the fiscal year June 1911, according to the enlisted militia strength.

—Mary Samuel Turner and Katie Madden, colored, were tried before Judge Wadell Wednesday afternoon for fighting on the street, near Judge Wadell's home Tuesday night. This trial created some little interest especially among the colored population as these girls belong to prominent colored families. By the time Judge Wadell took his seat on the bench the court room was well filled. The trouble between the girls began Sunday afternoon, when Kate Madden was walking down Main street followed by Mary Samuel Turner, Julia Baker and Nancy Robinson. From the testimony it seems as though these three girls are the fashion plates of the town and were making fun of the Madden girl's clothes. Later in the afternoon the Madden girl complained to Judge Wadell, saying they laughed and made fun of her. Monday evening the four society belles met at the Peoples' Grocery, the Madden girl leaving first, asking the Turner girl if she was coming back that way. She responded she was, to which the Madden girl said: "I want to see you." The three pals took a stroll down Main street coming back by way of the Farmers' Bank to meet the Madden girl. She was not there and they all wended their way toward the Turner home. When in front of Judge Wadell's home they collided and it proved rather interesting for a while, the Madden girl getting the best of the fray. As she provoked the quarrel Monday evening she was fined $1 and costs. The testimony amused the large crowd of spectators.

Heels to Match Walk.

"In every theater audience there are critical persons who are prone with suggestions for making the play more realistic," said a stage manager.

"Some of these hints are worth considering too. In one play that was staged not long ago the biggest hit was made by a character actress who had to wear down-at-the-heel shoes. On the third day of the New York run I received a letter from a shoemaker, who called my attention to the fact that the woman's gait and her shoes did not match. Her heels were run down on the outside, whereas the walk she assumed on the stage must inevitably cause her shoes to run over on the inside. That was a point that had escaped the notice of everybody in the company. Upon looking into the matter we found plenty of evidence to uphold our critic, and we secured a pair of property shoes with heels worn away on the inside."—New York Press.

The Gegenschein.

The Gegenschein is the name given to one of the most inexplicable objects known to astronomers. It is visible in the night sky under favorable conditions, is rounded in outline and is situated always exactly opposite the place of the sun. It has been termed by one eminent astronomer "a sort of cometary or meteoric satellite" attending the earth. He supposes it to be composed of a cloud of meteors situated about a million miles from the earth and revolving around it in a period of just one year, so that the sun and the meteors are always on opposite sides of the earth. It is estimated that the size of this ghostly satellite may be nearly the same as that of the planet Jupiter—i. e., about 86,000 miles in diameter.—Harper's Weekly.

Daily Thought.

What an ornament and safeguard is humor! Far better than wit for a poet and writer. It is a genius itself, and so defends from the inanities.—Walter Scott.

Celebrated Stallion Dead.

Orlando the celebrated stallion owned by Woodford Brothers, died at "Arcadia," the country home of Mr. Ben Woodford. The horse became ill with colic and, notwithstanding several prominent veterinary surgeons were called in consultation, the noted sire passed away.

Orlando was an English production and was bred by Lord Beresford, and was sold as a yearling for $7,500. As a two-year-old he won the Richmond, Prince of Wales Stakes, Middle Park Plate, Dewhurst Plate and Homebred Foal Stakes. At three he captured the Eclipse Stakes, Sussex Stakes, Great Foal, Champion, Limekil and Subscription Stakes. At four he took the Rouspe Memorial Stakes, Eclipse Stakes, for the second time, and the Gordon Stakes.

The horse was then sold to his present owners for a handsome figure and brought to America in the spring of 1903. Orlando was sired by Orme, out of Huelva.

Orlando is the sire of Whimsical, one of the greatest two and three-year-olds of 1905 and 1906 capturing eight races at two and nine race at three; Orline, Stoner Hill, The Wrestler, Oveland, Barringo, Jim Myers, the very good winner Orindot, the stake winner Plantland, Orlandwick, Ordone, Land Breeze, Jeff Herrstein, Virlando, Topland, Lothario, Friend Harry and Prince Imperial.

Orlando was yet a young horse and much was expected of him for the future. He had not been looking well for some time and his condition was diagnosed as constipation. He later developed colic in an acute form and died.

The death of this great horse is a distinct loss to the racing interests of the country and a heavy one to his owners. Orlando was buried at "Arcadia" and a suitable headstone will mark his grave and tell to future generations his record as a racer and sire of runners.
